The Encounter

- All environmental issues can be summed into one sentence.
- We have about 33.33 times of present economic activity as buffer to address environmental and related issues before mother nature says it is enough. Our children's grand children will certainly face it.

The Later

- What happens at the end of the buffer?
Will the hell breaks out then?
- Perhaps not until every human will collapse and die within 6 to 8 minutes if not within 45 seconds!
- Perhaps not unless many humans become thieves, robbers, dacoits or murderers to grab some water or food or both.

The Veracity

- If a reduction of 0.03 percent in Oxygen levels in a period of 20 years is an existing truth or at least, more than a mere probability, the guess stands.
- If trees are felled, marine plankton killed and green fields are converted in hitherto surpassing quantities, the guess stands.
- If all the rivers in the world or at least a thousand of them will go dry in about 25 years or say 50 or 90 years, the guess stands.
- If production of automobiles is likely to hit 3 billion in the coming 3 years and about 4 billion vehicles using 4 trillion liters or more of gas every year in coming decades contributing to quality of air and health, the guess stands.
- If it is true that there exists many more economic activities other than production of automobiles that contribute to pollution of Air, Water and Soil, the guess stands.
- Unless mother nature intervenes in some miraculous manner, the guess stands.

The Effect

- The buffer we have is not the Gross effect .
- Consequent to the awareness, education and effort caused by the environmental activists and professionals, many actions were and being taken to meet, slow down or reverse the adverse effect on environment. Credit has to be taken for this.
- The buffer arrived at may be the same even after considering such ameliorating activities and green efforts including all green laws.
- All these efforts will not reduce the aggregate impact.
- It is the NET effect that will be encountered and is referred.

The who and when

- Can we prevent this? Yes! If we can identify who, when and how.
- When can corrective and preventive actions be taken and who can take part?
- Governments when they take human being as basis for all the activities and start to look beyond economic wealth, economic growth and economic resources in terms of money.
- Businesses when they understand real purpose and role of business which is not earning of money, profits and growth.
- Professionals and intellectuals when they can add action to advocacy and discourse so that they lead and show to the communities that money is not the criterion.
- Individuals when they can force the needed change by their own peaceful actions which can awaken the above three groups.

The How

- How can we stop the unwanted from happening?
- By using right tools without fear or favor and admitting boldly the past mistakes.
- Fine! is there a tool that can give progressively measurable results and achieve the goal within less than 24 months?
- Yes! We have it and it is called

The Tool

- ROTHOM
 - Role Theory of Money
- (Harbinger of Resonant, Human Economy)

The Crux

- Money is the reason for and key to solve all environmental and economic issues.
- Environmental professionals, intellectuals and those who can see reason are the persons who can easily understand the tool and facilitate its implementation.

The Now

- Air , water, food and other natural goods are becoming scarce or polluted / adulterated.
- People that seek shelter need to spend significant portion of earnings or go homeless.
- Less and less of quantity and quality of goods are obtained when more and more money is spent.
- Education, health care, employment and transportation, have become mountains out of mole hills.

- Financial serfdom is the only all pervading truth and financial freedom has become a myth.
- Interest, taxes, income and profits are the only subjects that are noticed.
- Most Governments are bankrupt OR are in the process of becoming so.
- Governments, business persons and individuals all are clamoring for money and nobody knows how much is enough and how to get it.
- Living has become a nightmare to the majority.

The Target

- Achieve balance of life and ecology by legally eliminating scope, need and incentive to strive for, earn and store money or wealth.

The Dimension

- Eliminate unsustainable activities.
- Abolish additional compensation.
- Adopt environmental and human basis.

The Process

- Demarcate sustainable economic activities from unsustainable.
- Identify, regulate and monitor economic activities.
- Limit the role of money by managing demand and controlling supply.
- Replace present monetary standards with human standard.
- Take other associated steps.

The Results

- Every government, business person and individual will have enough money for all reasonable and necessary activities.
- Every business will get interest free loans for all reasonable business activities.
